Thomas Peterson, MD, a Thoracic Surgeon in a large Philadelphia hospital, is mysteriously transported to the market place of Nazareth in Israel in the year 27 A.D.

As a 21st century physician and an atheist Jew, he soon rises to the status of royal physician to King Herod, who rewards him with a large villa including land and a hundred slaves to call his own.

So sure of his own goodness and moral values, he is faced with the stunning realization that unlimited wealth and power over others bring out qualities of character in him he never imagined he had. Each time he comes face to face with the lowly Carpenter from Nazareth, who watches Him with a knowing smile, he experience His unconditional love in spite of his failings.

Through the torturous journey of self-discovery that leads him from the height of fame to the depth of utter despair, he learns the truth about himself, as well as faith and love in ways that will change the destiny of his life in the year 2015.

The question this story poses is, given the right circumstances, what would we find in our hearts if there were no consequences to our action since all is only a dream. Be prepared for a stunning surprise at the end.
